

Year 3: Relationships

Key Learning

Being part of a family provides:

It is great being part of a family because we can spend time together and care for each other.

NEVER EVER
GIVE UP!

There are different ways that people can care for each other e.g. giving encouragement and supporting them in times of need.

There are lots of different types of families such as:
Single parents, same-sex parents, step-parents, blended families, foster parents, adoptive parents.

If I am upset or worried about things at home I know I need to tell someone. I can tell my teachers if family relationships make me feel unhappy or unsafe.

There are things that are and aren't appropriate to share with:

- Friends
- Classmates
- Family
- Wider social groups
- People online

Bullying and hurtful behaviour is unacceptable in any situation.

There can be serious effects and consequences for people involved in bullying. I know what to do and whom to tell if I see or experience bullying or hurtful behaviour.

Bullying can happen online and can have similarities and difference to face-to-face bullying.

People in different cultures and in the wider society show respect and courtesy in different ways.

I have respect for myself and have the right to be treated respectfully by others.

I recognise respectful behaviours such as: helping and including others, being responsible, listening to others, using manners etc.

It is important to model respectful behaviours in different situations e.g. at home, at school and online.

When I am online I can keep myself safe by using, but not sharing passwords, using trusted websites and having adult supervision.
